

THE EXILES ADVICE TO HIS COUNTRY

You Sons of Grainne that wander through Britania
Despisep & exi'd from your pea: country
We see for fathers bled a the sh me of i er v
And wit the last breath the did Irela go f
Ais, from your slumber, no longer be n boud g
From t e chains f oppresion t r onny X uoe
It's the voice of tho rare cries t m the rave
With free om to Erin where the shamrock does grow

When religion & sanctity bore the so pte in our co ntry
It's then dear Erin y ur country wa free
Your Cathera s & Chu ete were i one hor o unity
Your hills d les and valleys were t llierty
We na no proctors no bthe iean n r conqueror
No tithes to pay o' lergy whose freen we d not know
No Swad' r- no Banters Mucktletons us Brunswick rs
Wa in the land of E in where the Shamrock oe grow

When religious animosity had near destroy d our unry
And ga eon invaders the rights of the bed
Causep millions to se p under the h d b oo' of slavery
An t b ought es at l ight under the tyrant ev m n.
It was the wan of unity gave them an o go tu y
Under the second Harry commandered by rong' on Then they enslaved our country t k t m es o libery
In the lovely land of Erin whr the S mrock does grow

When Ireland was invaded in th twe ft c uoy
Wh n R derick O Connor reigned - brach in our ls.
Our castles were burn d and our land confi-cated
A d the Sons of E in driven to exile
And later sti I tell you t ue o t he Englim o
But if th Frenchmen had be n true w o d d o r r e
But when they heard St R th was des i from Au rlin he e w ars fled
And thus betrayed bld E in where he shamrock o s g/bw

You Sons of Grainne why qnar el w th each ot er
Disgracinc yourselves and your de r country
But mind the adv e of O' Connor you brother
To love one a o h r and bette
It Engla o s prid and bly d iv s Irishes n o jalon
And while you keep divide your weak es he s -it know
And you will e the cause f the c rrd Penit w
Th t long oppr sed id Erin where the Shamrock do s yqe

Th h let our country join heart and hand together
Let envy and ea ice a ay from us flow
An let the love of br therhood abide in one another
Let this be the last - here er you go
May religous animosity be tu ned into unity
Th Lord protect our country an t hurch also
An thay we live in peace and p iti qu rrel cease
In the lovely land of Erin where the shamrock et does grow
